

ROSKI SCHOOL OF ART EXTENSION

STUDIO BACKDOOR · 2021

ROSKI SCHOOL OF ART EXTENSION

CATEGORY

Architecture | Education

MEDIUM

Cast concrete, a corten stair, a glass studio storey

LOCATION

Los Angeles

YEAR

2021

Drawn to give the edge of a campus back to its street. Instead of a closed block, the ground floor is left open to the city and the stair is put on show, so the people working inside and the people walking past can see each other. It asks who a school building is for: only the students in it, or the street around it too.

01

RENDERS

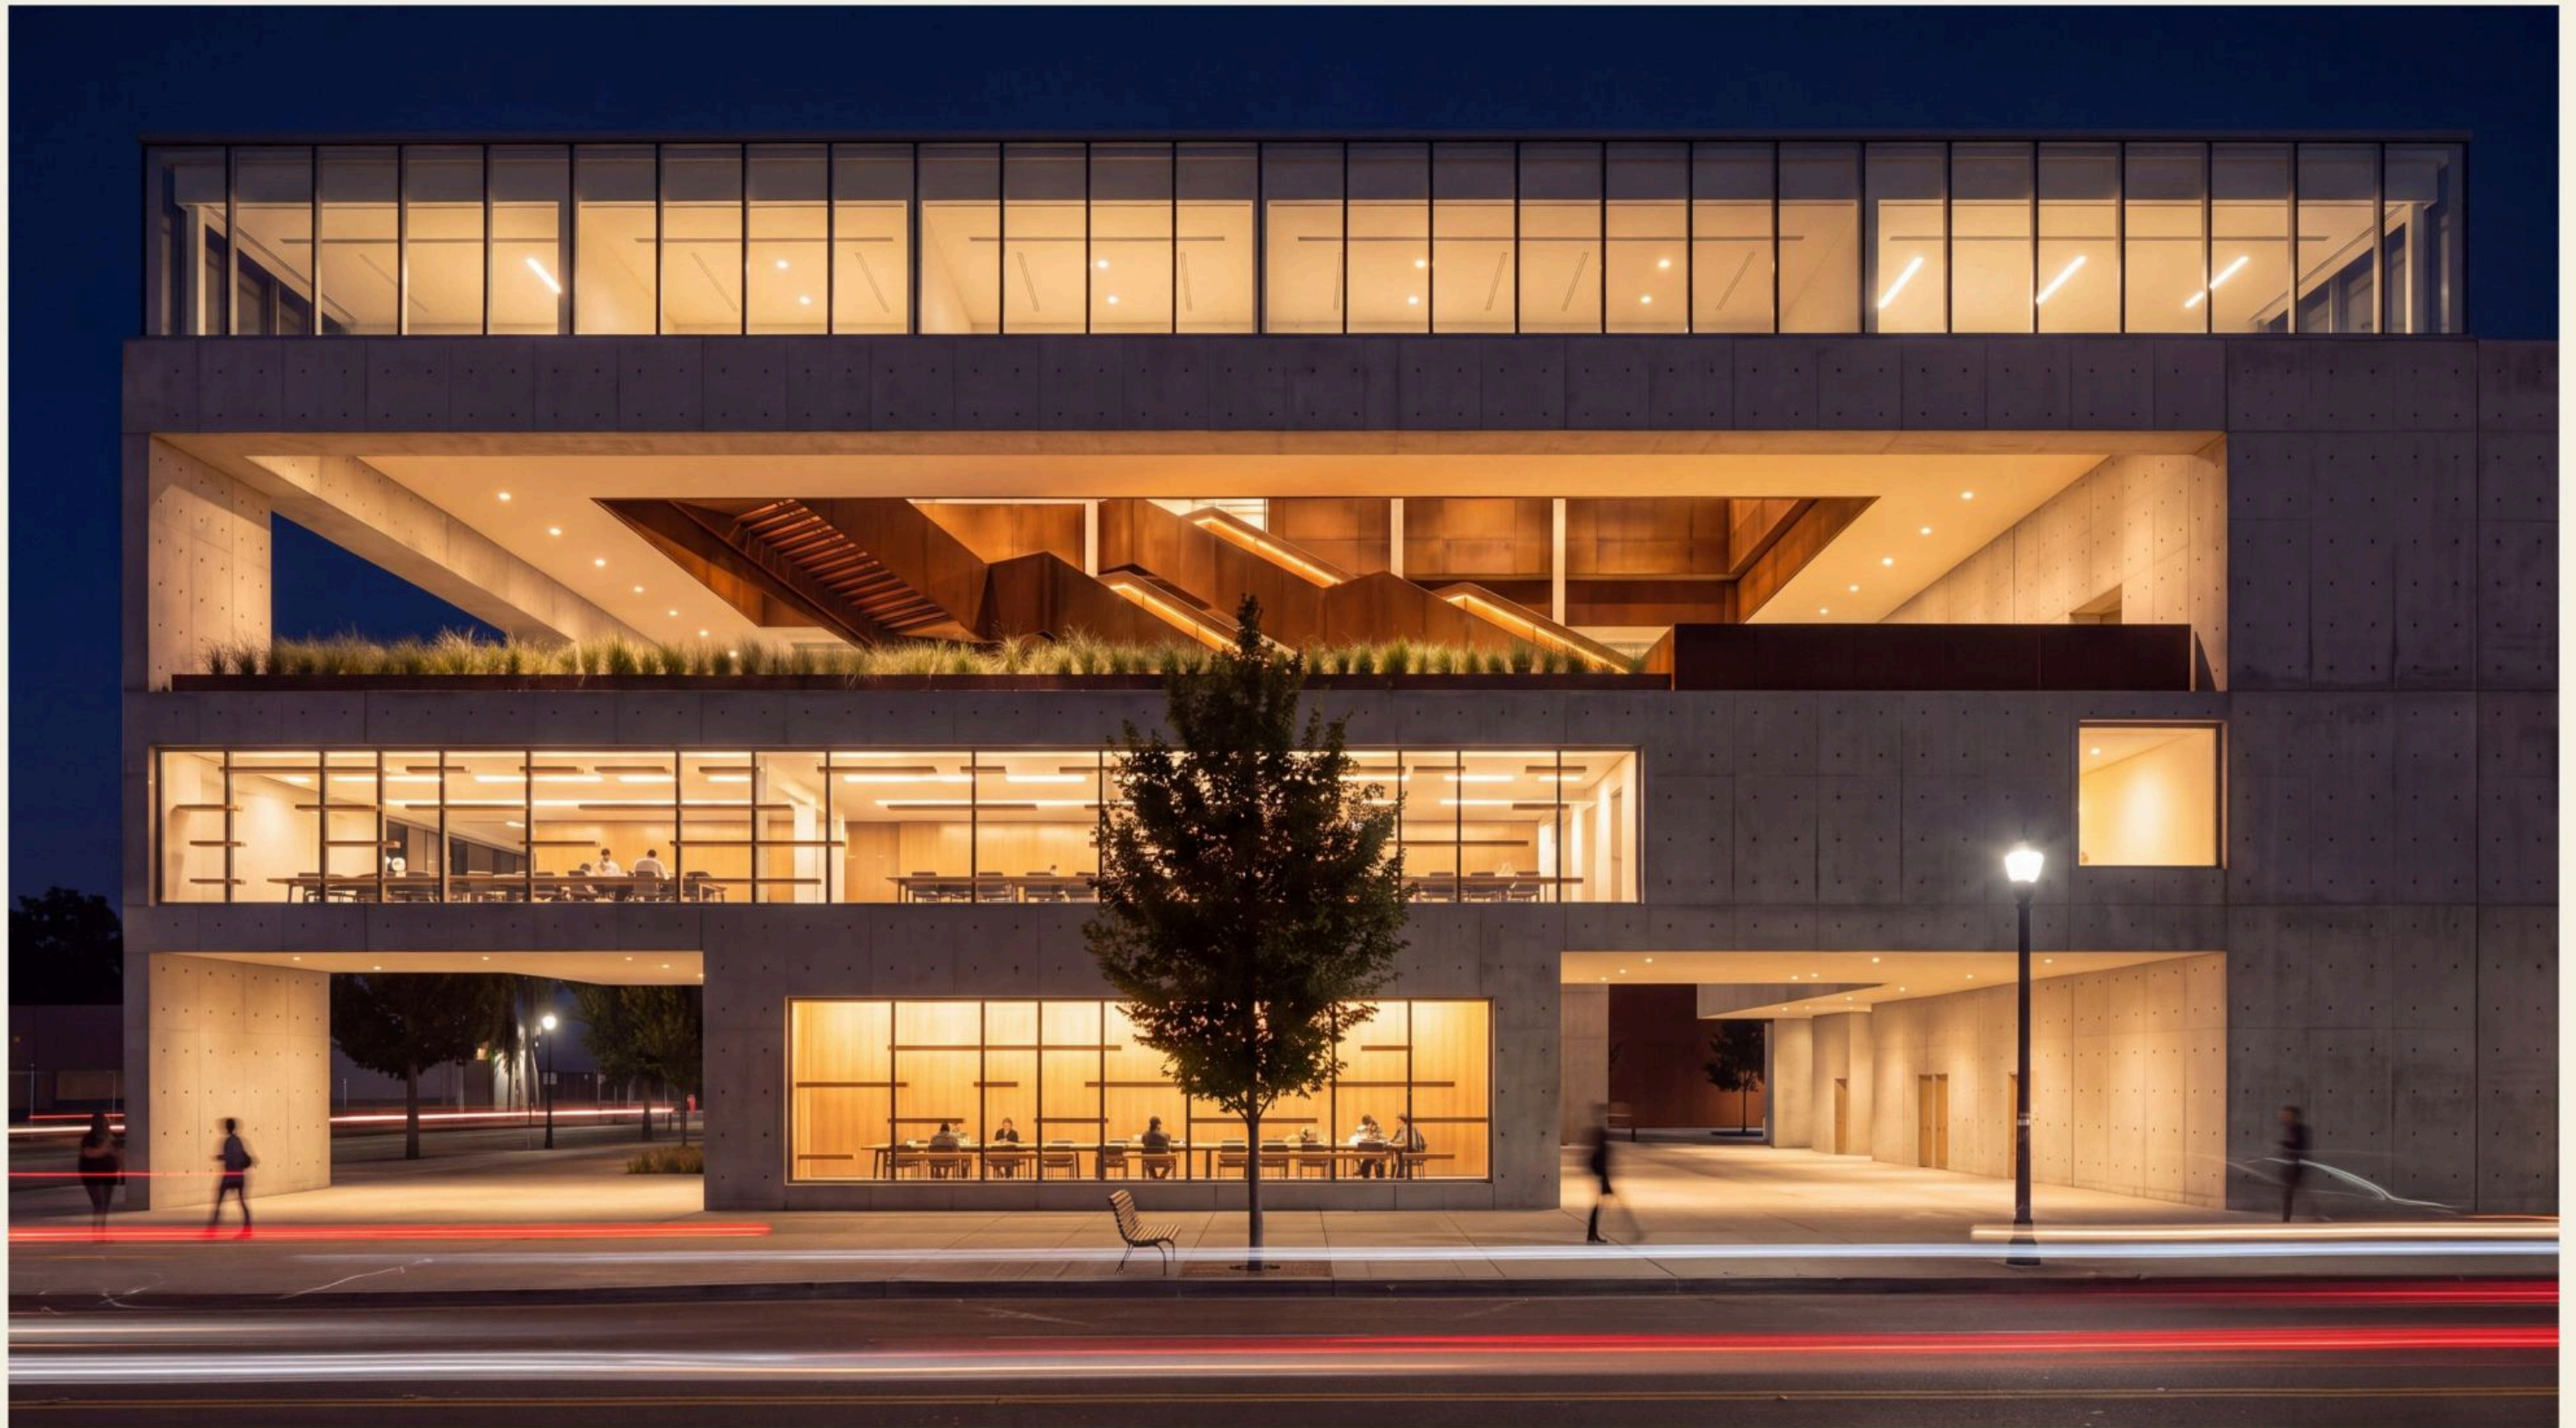

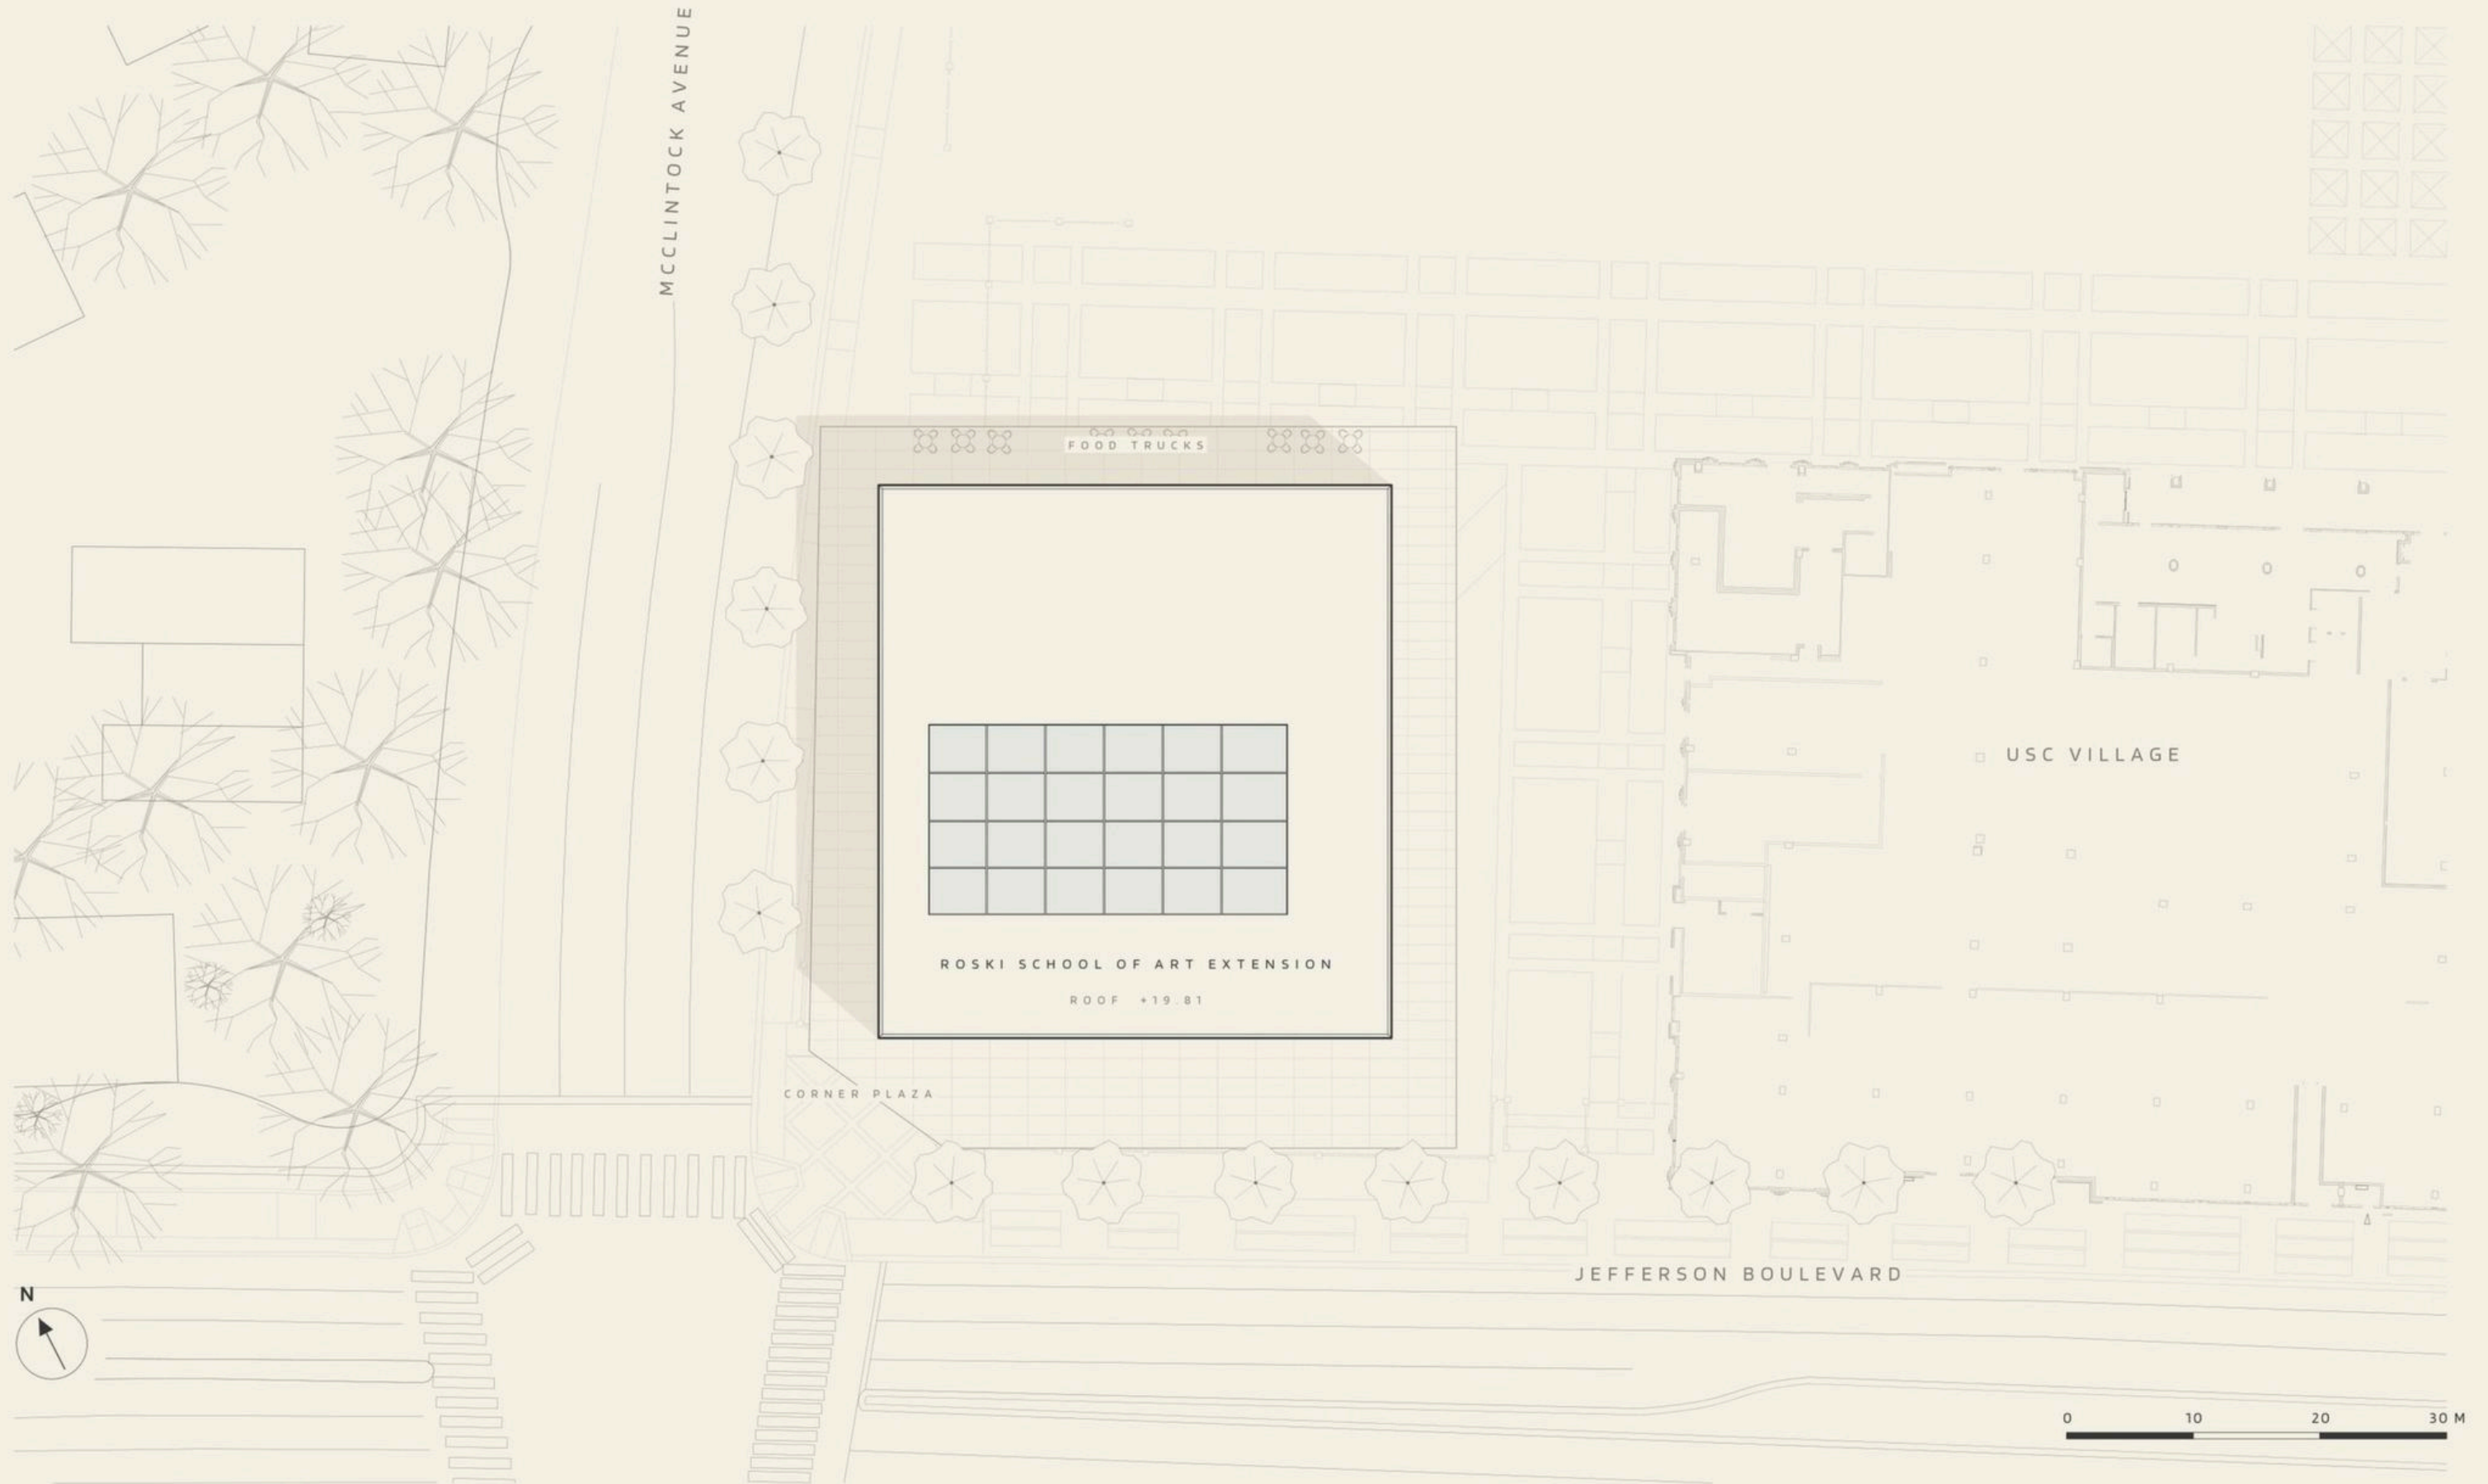

0 2

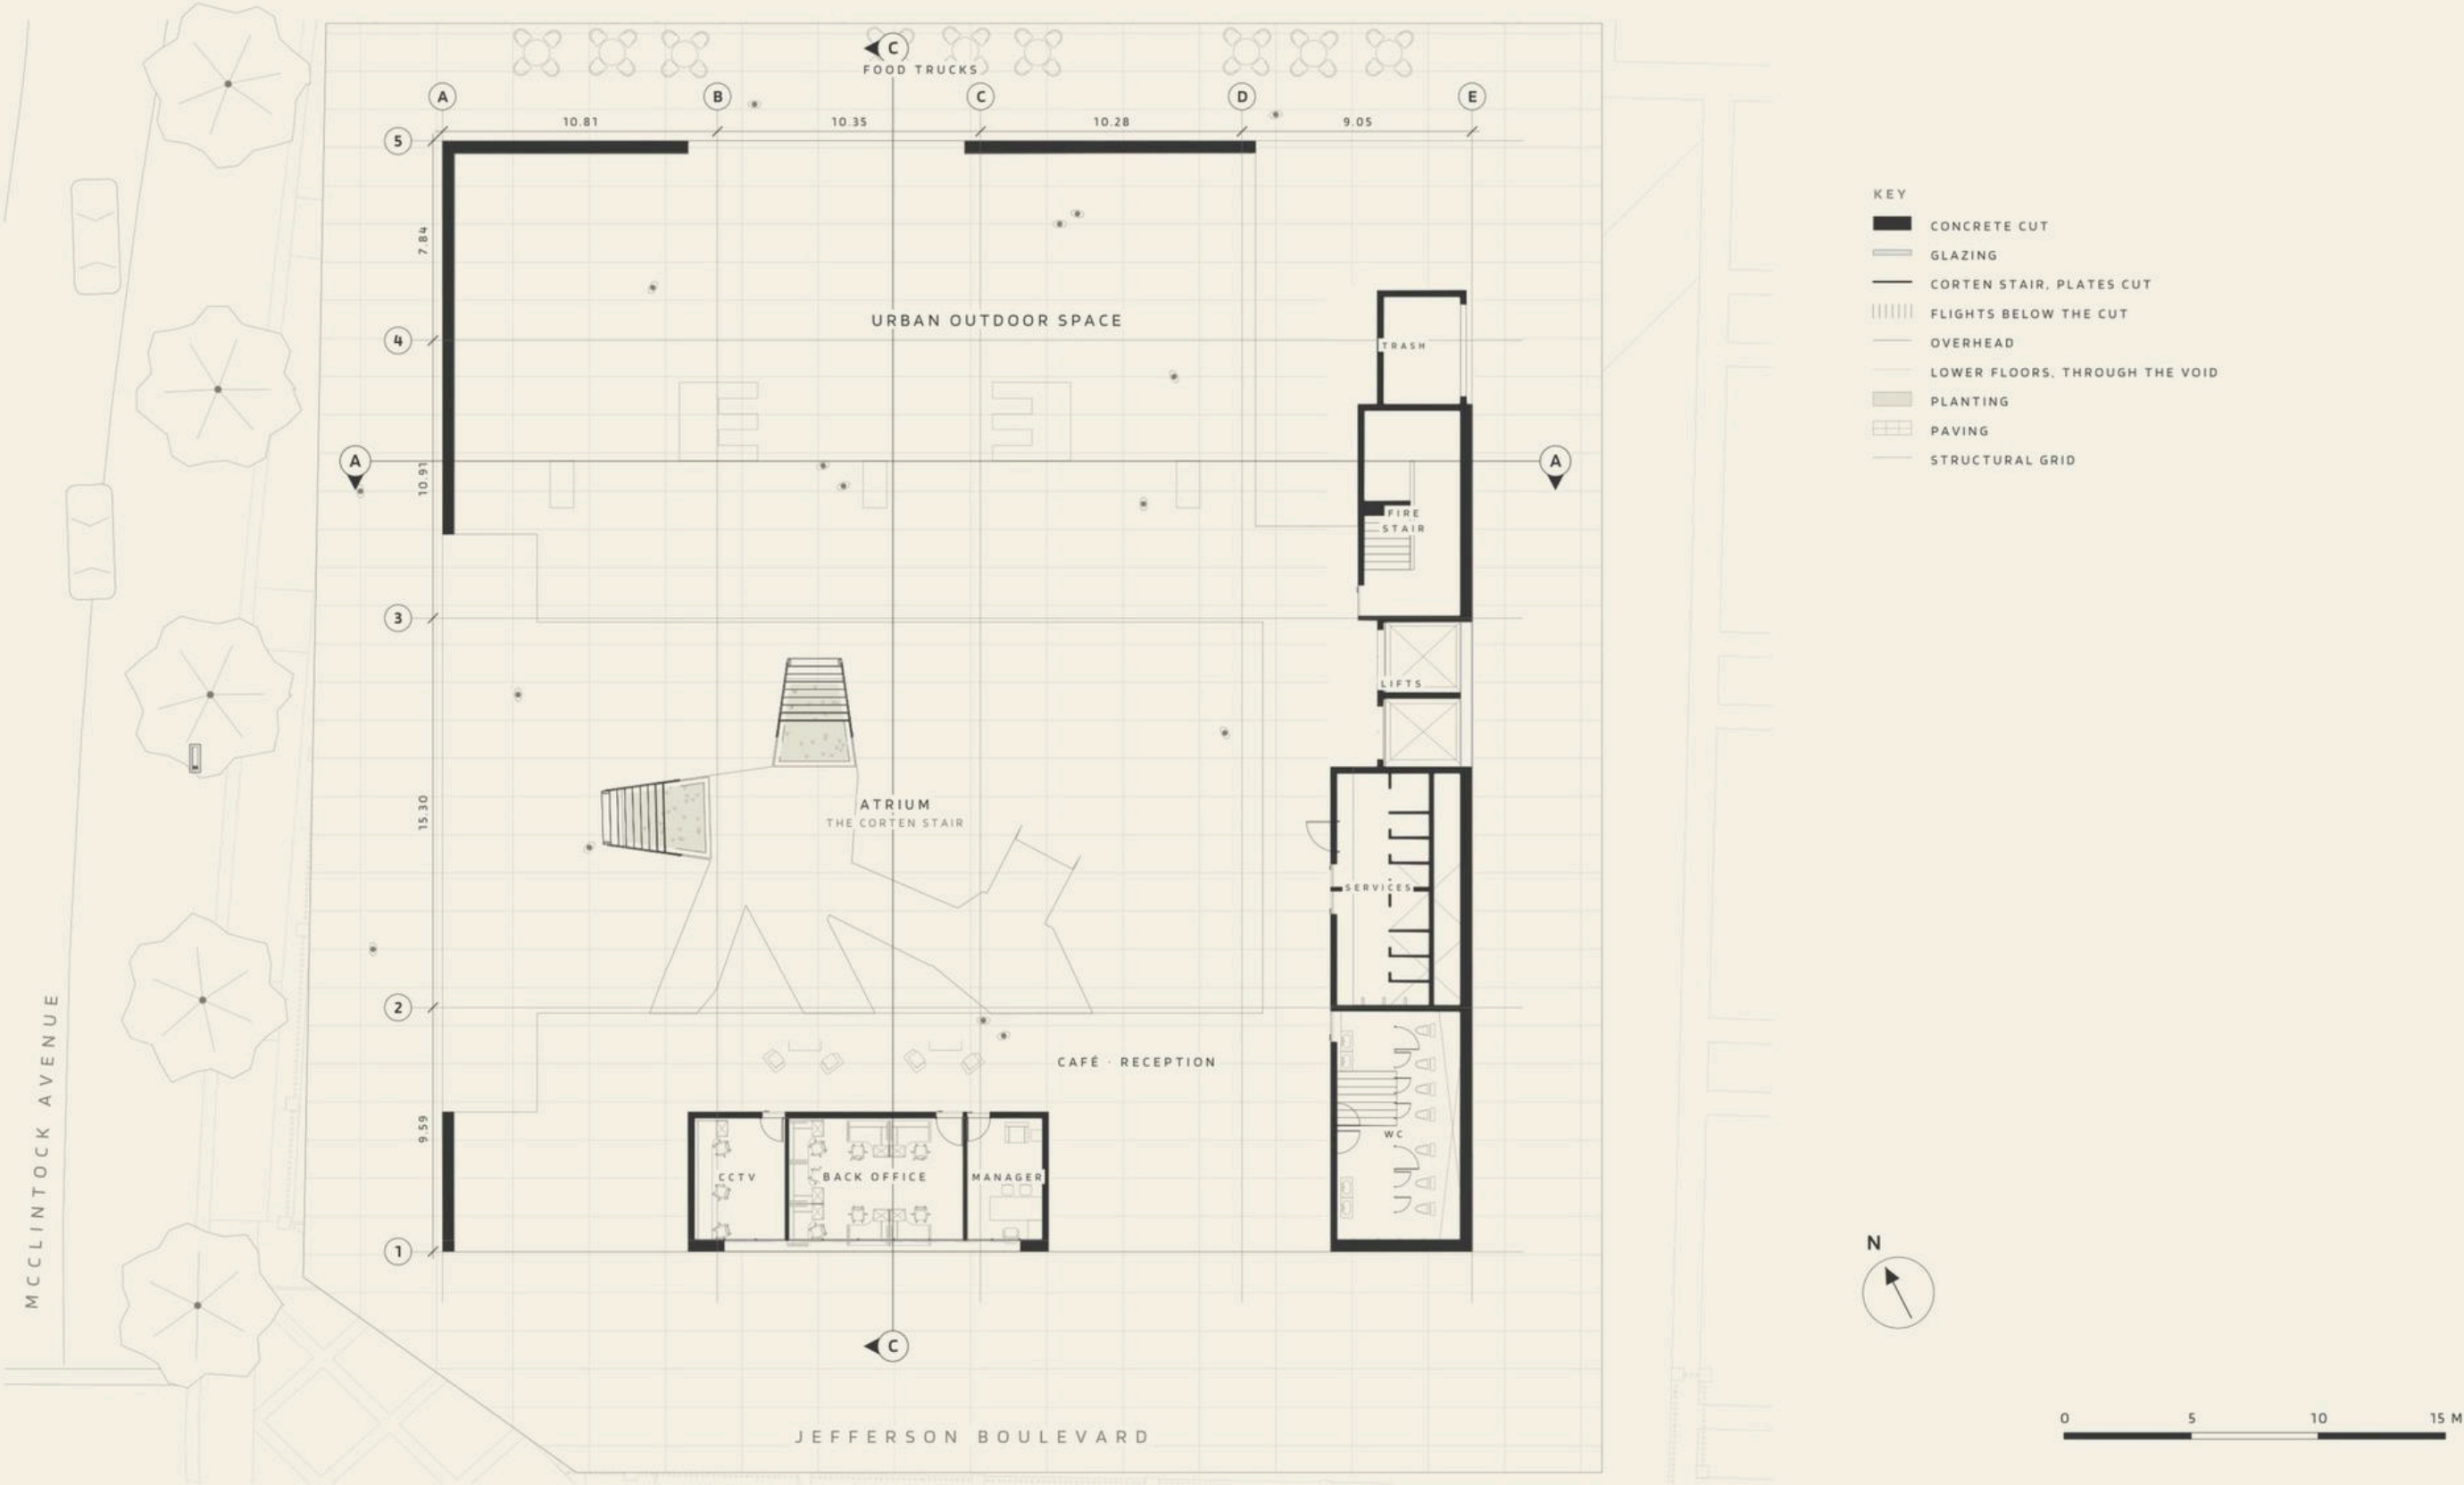

D R A W I N G S

LEVEL 1 PLAN

STREET LEVEL · THE URBAN OUTDOOR SPACE AND THE ATRIUM

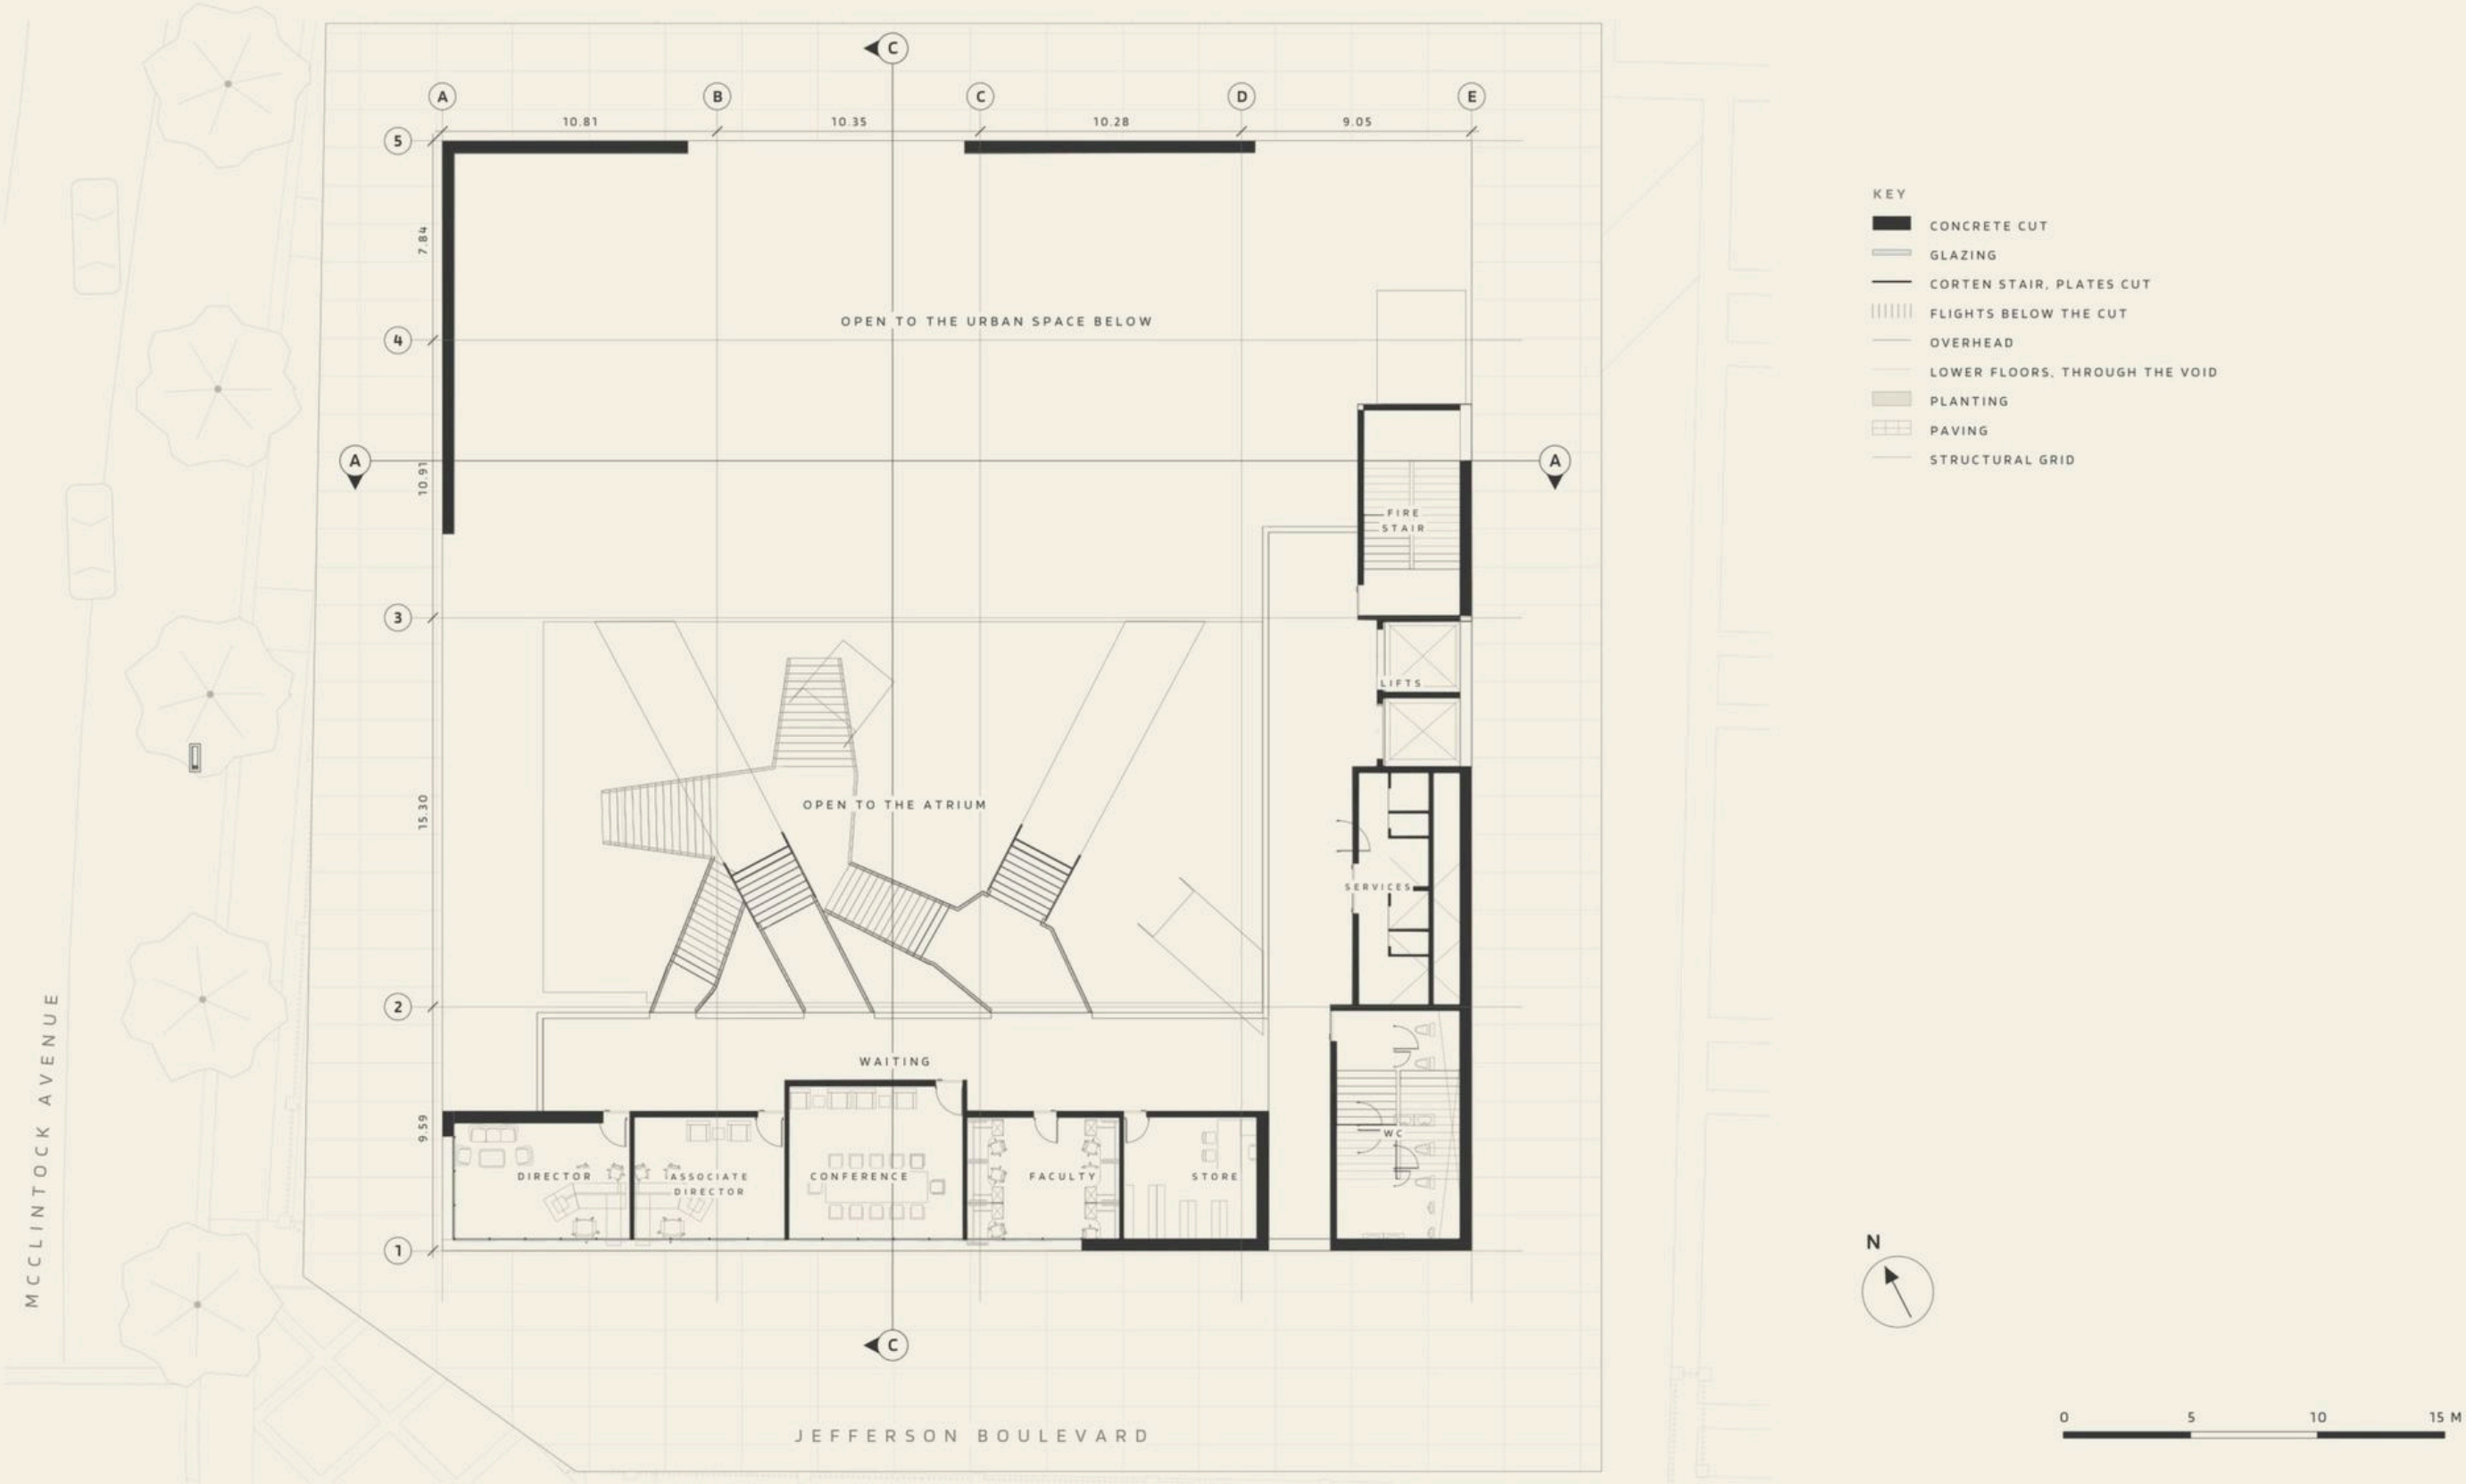

LEVEL 1 · ±0.00

LEVEL 2 PLAN

ADMINISTRATION ALONG JEFFERSON BOULEVARD

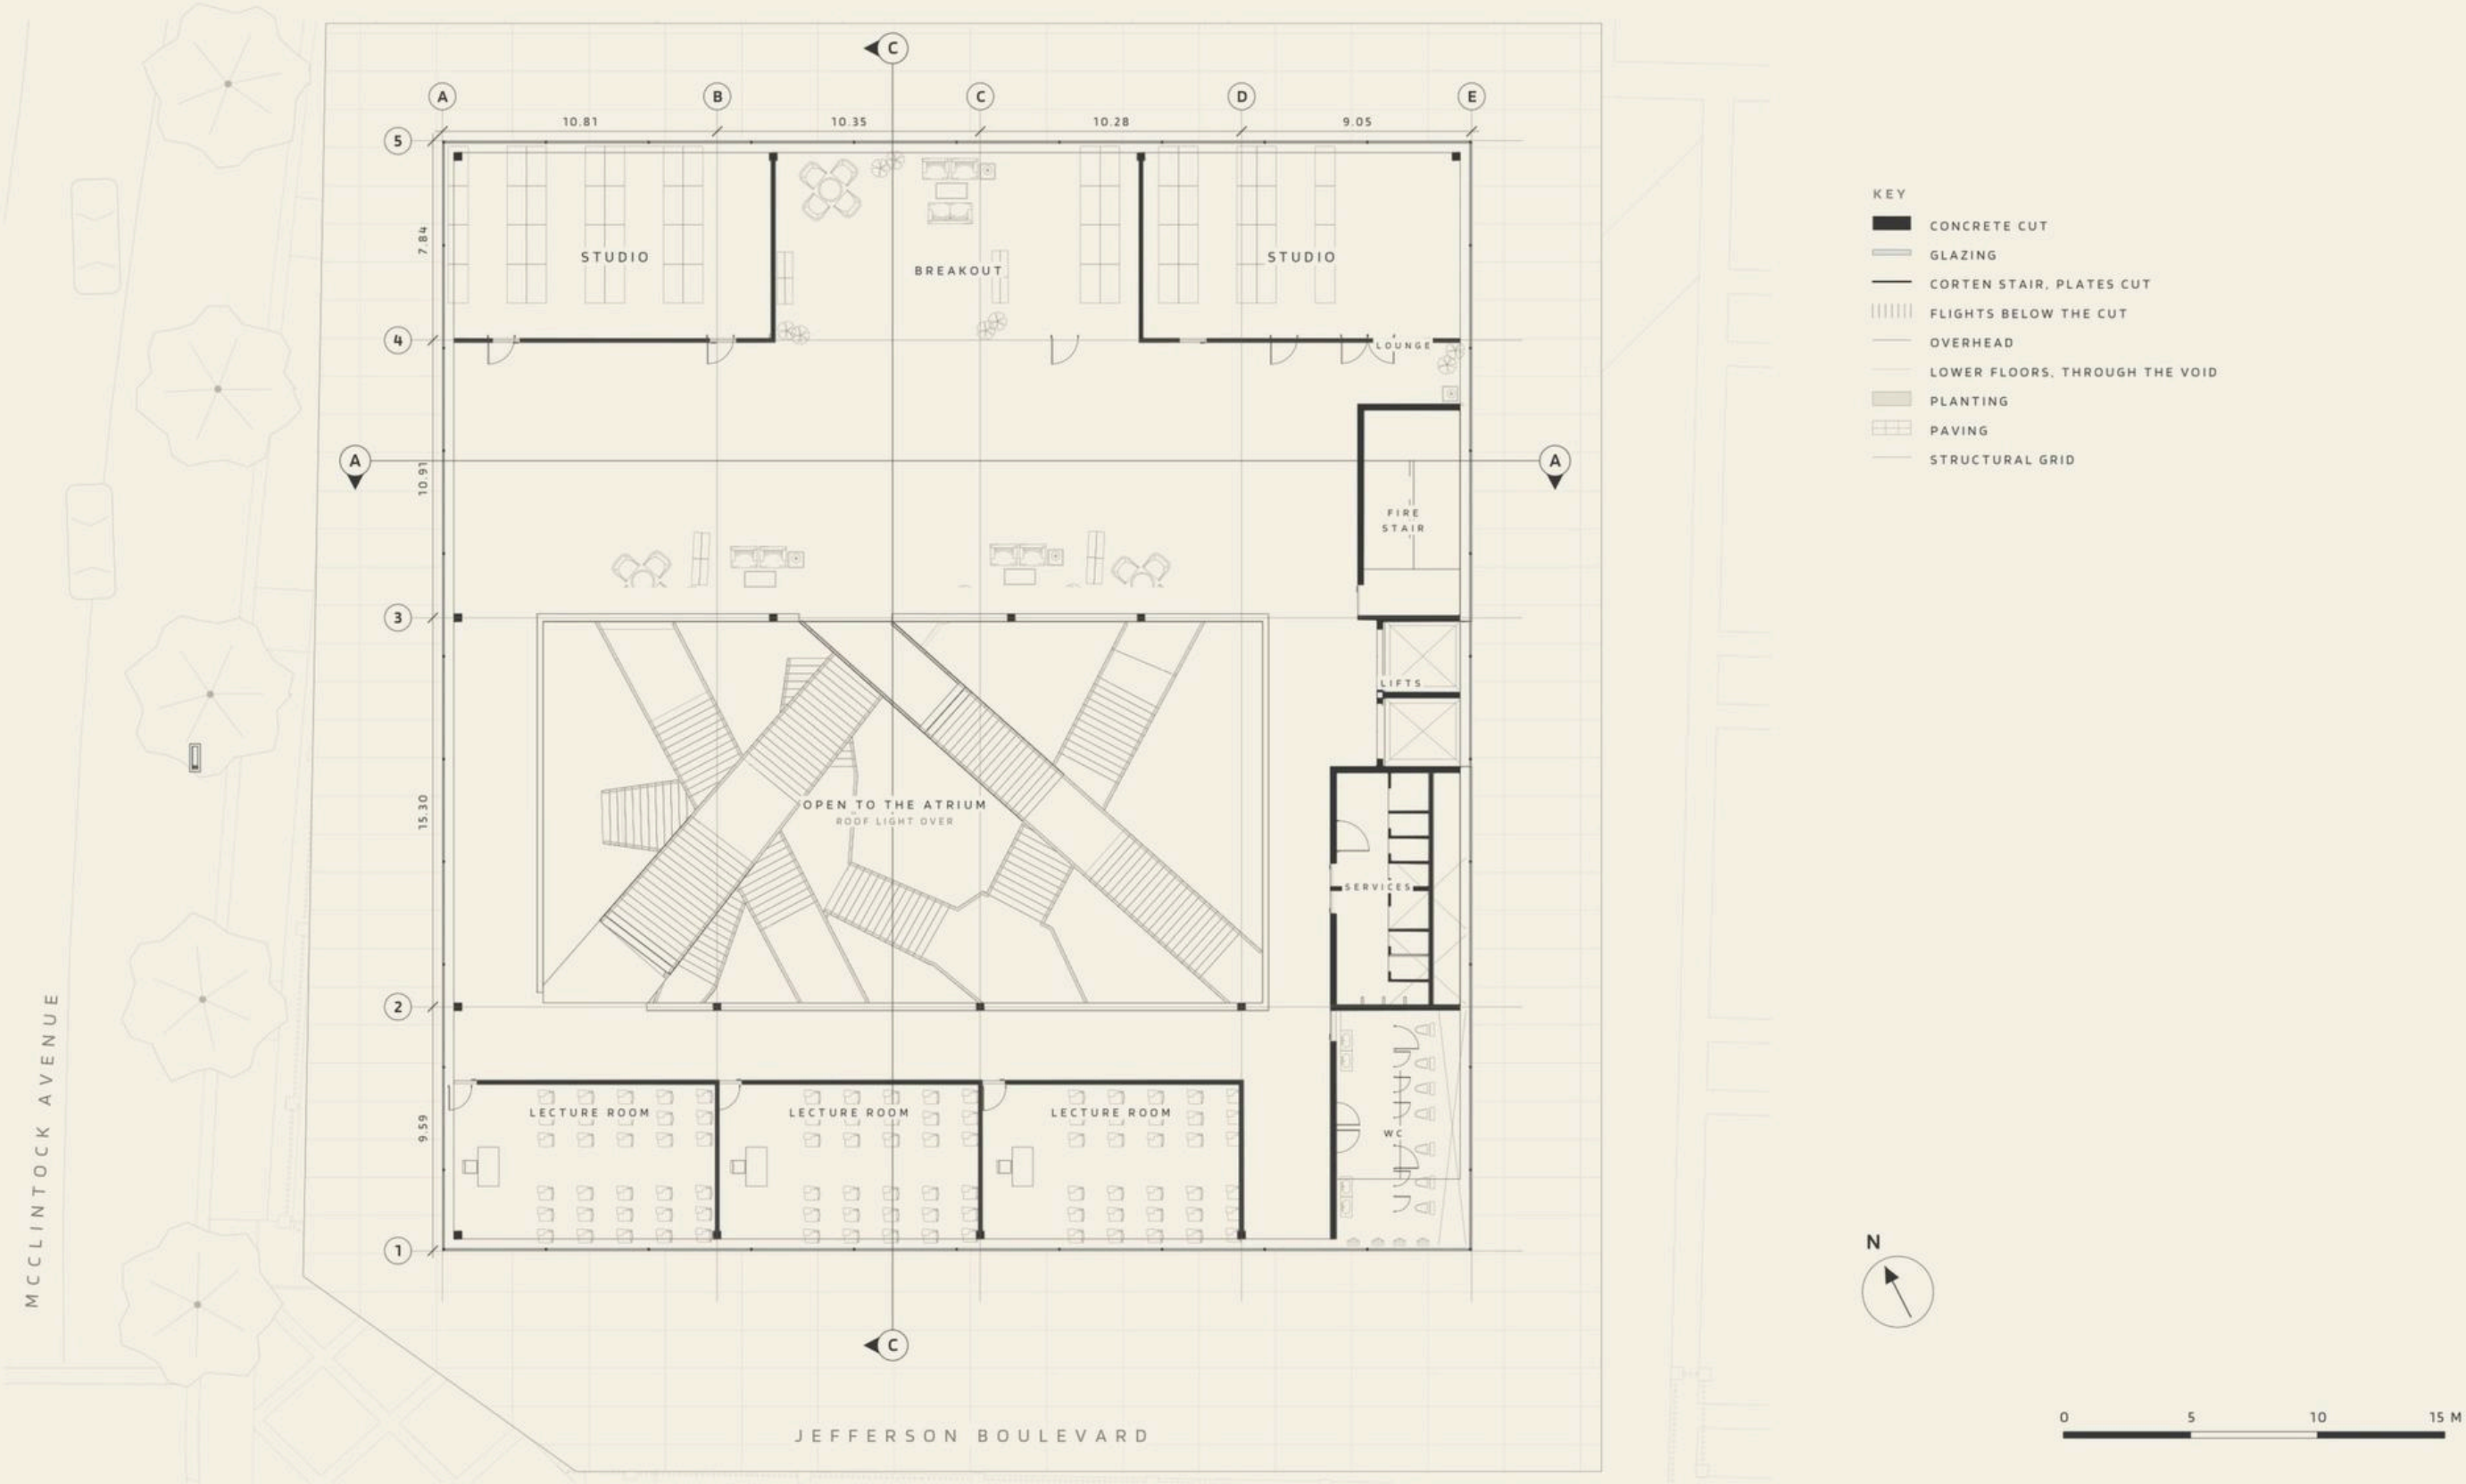

LEVEL 2 · +4.57

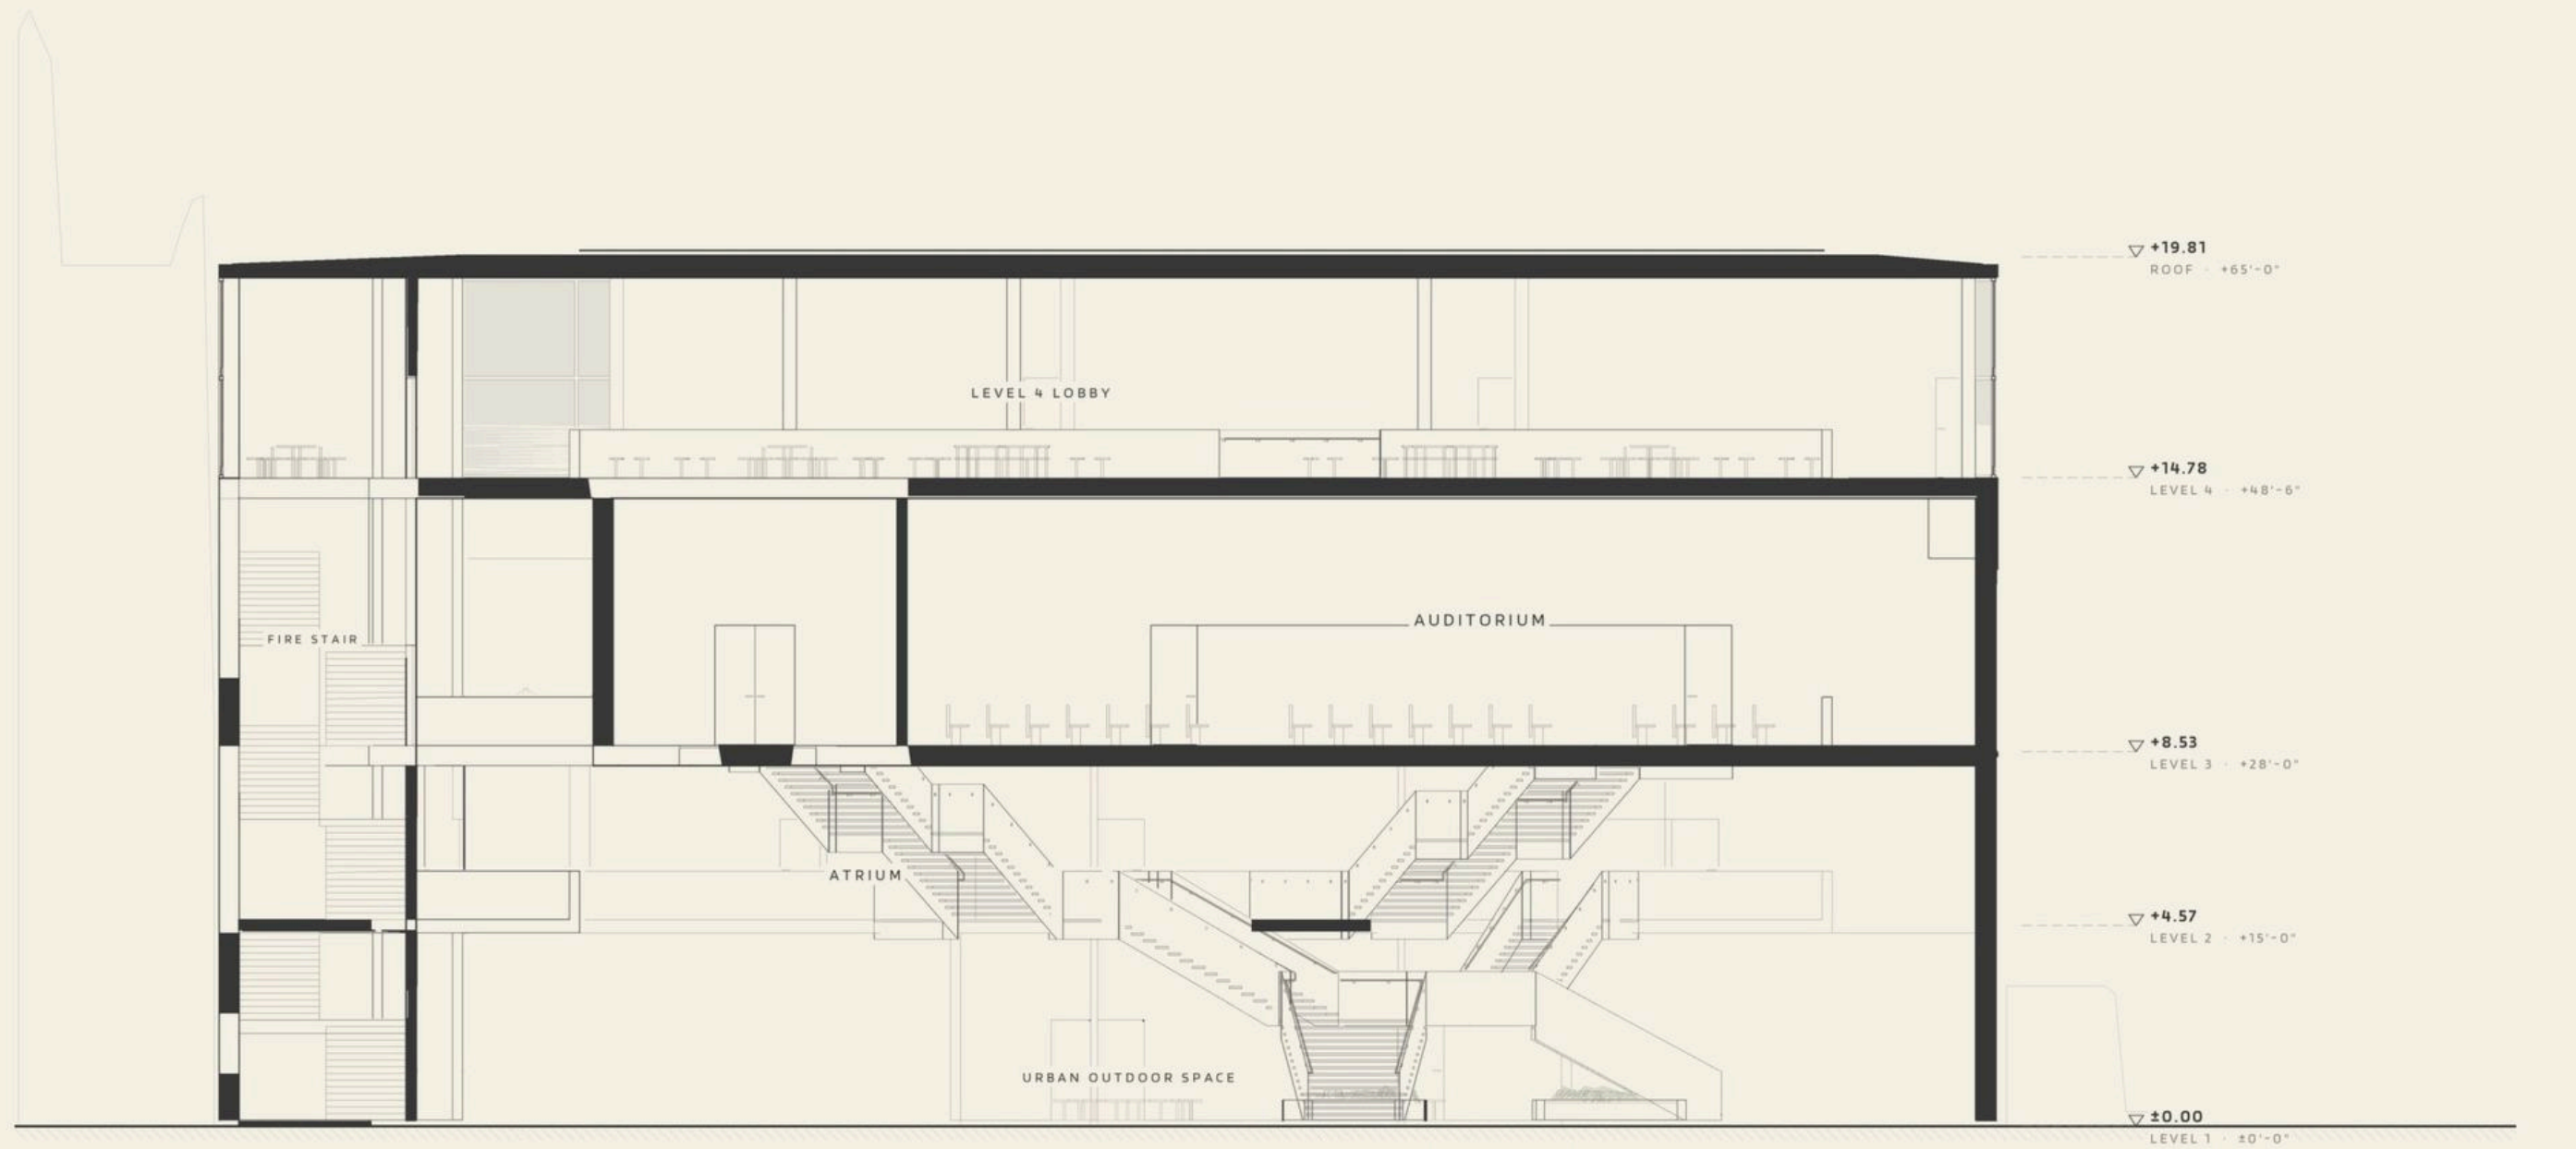

LEVEL 4 PLAN

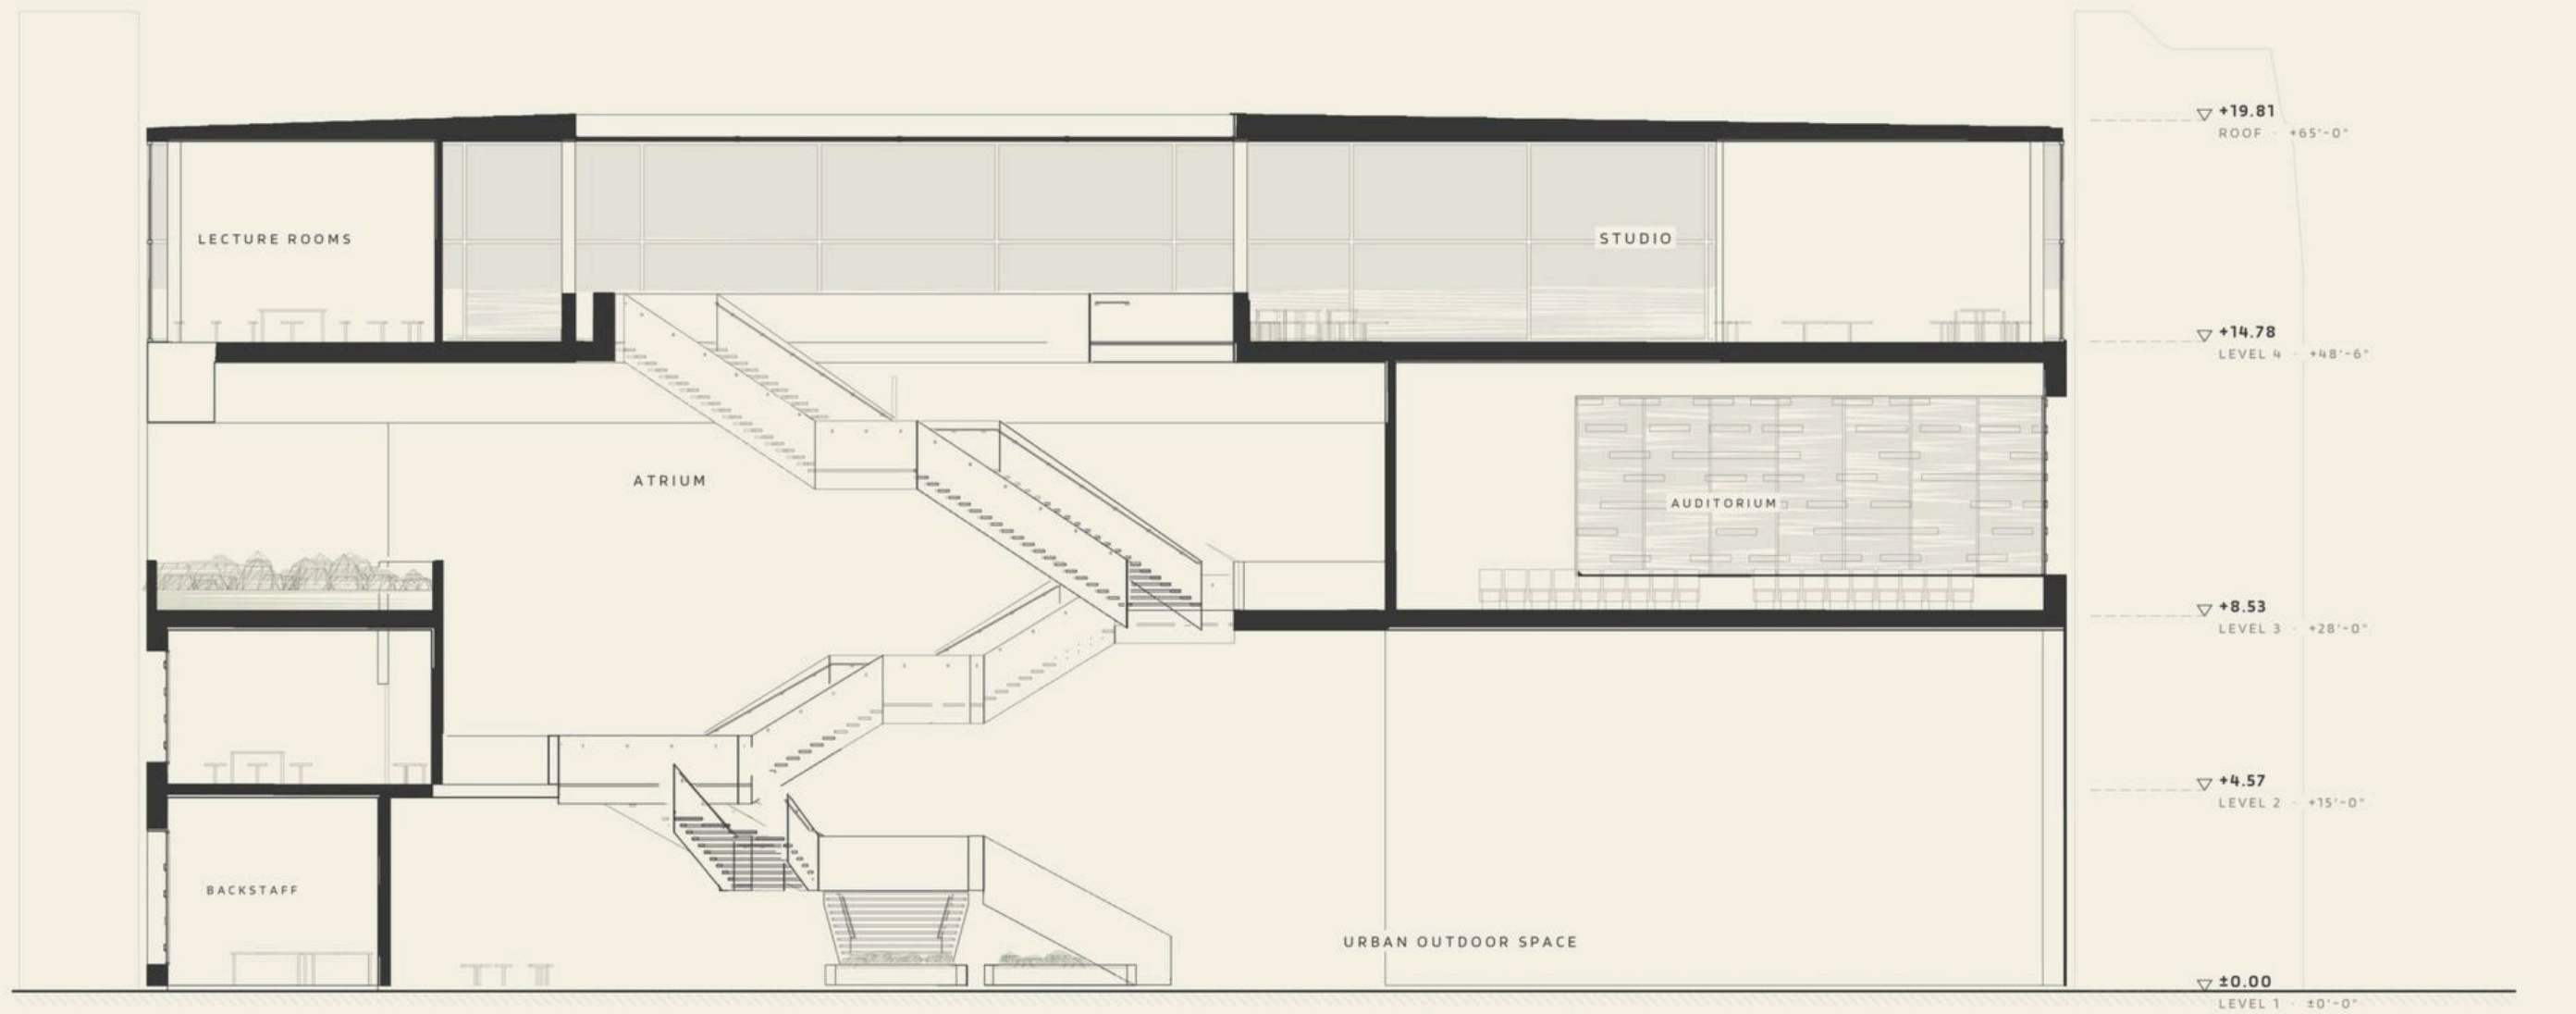

STUDIOS AND LECTURE ROOMS IN THE GLAZED TOP BAND

LEVEL 4 · +14.78

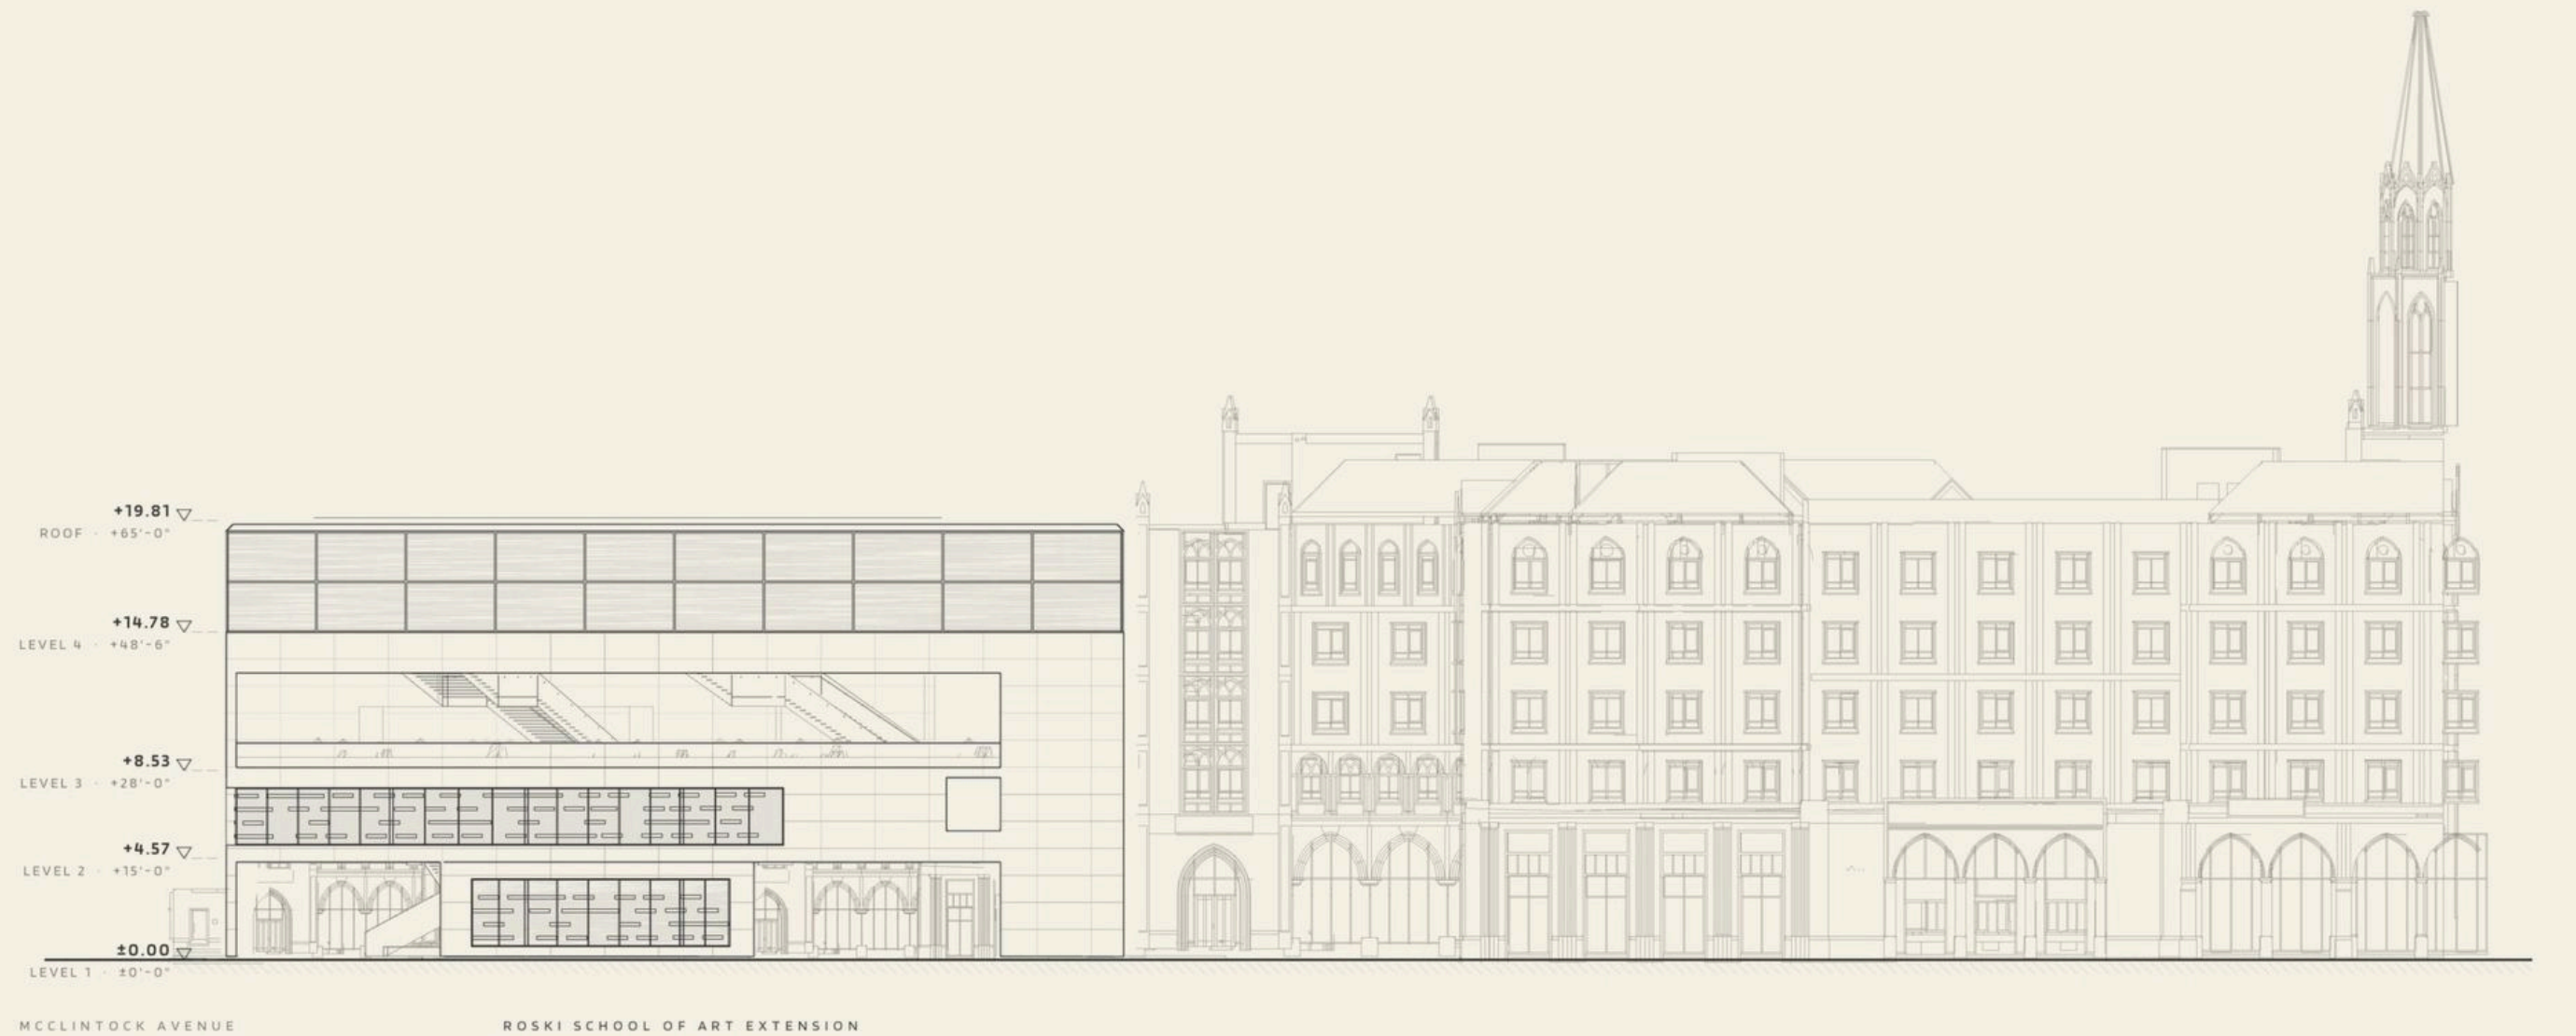

SECTION A-A · LOOKING SOUTH

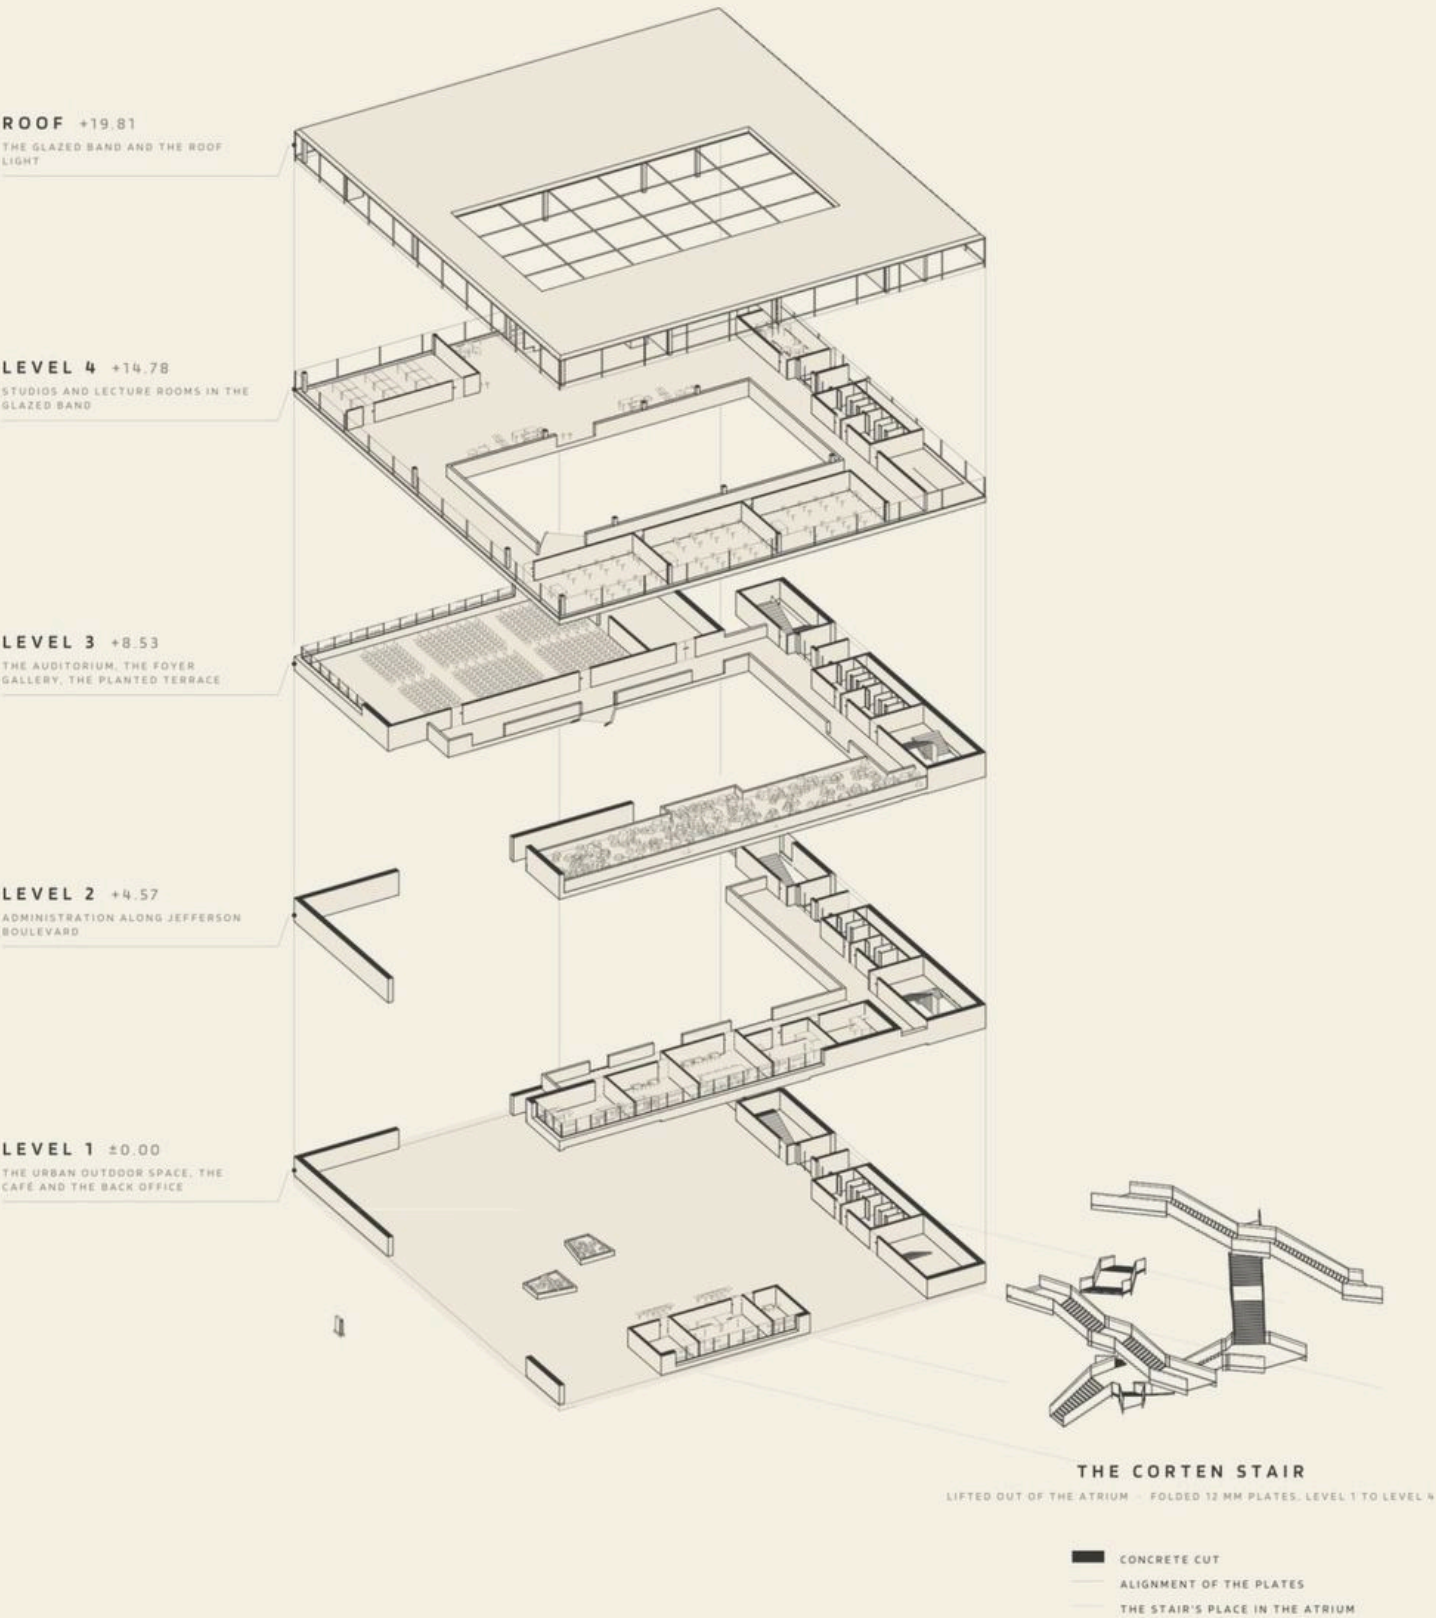

LOOKING NORTH FROM JEFFERSON BOULEVARD

0 10 20 M

EXPLODED AXONOMETRIC

FROM THE SOUTH-WEST · EACH FLOOR CUT 1.8 M ABOVE ITS LEVEL

CONCRETE FRAME AND SLABS · HAIRLINE
CORTEN STAIR · HEAVY WHERE SEEN, ONE DARKER TONE THROUGH THE FRAME
PLOT BOUNDARY · DASHED

